God Made All Things*

Main Point: Instill in your child the truth of God’s creation (Genesis 1 and 2).

Preparation: You’ll need a children’s picture Bible and some kind of linking toys like LEGO, Mega Bloks or K’NEX.

Suggested Age: Preschool/Elementary

Estimated Time: 20 minutes

Step One:

After reading the Creation story (Genesis 1 and 2) in a children’s picture Bible, pull out a large box of linking toys—like LEGO, Mega Bloks or K’NEX. Help the kids make several designs, such as people or cars or houses. After completing the “creation” process, take the creations apart and place the individual pieces on the floor. Ask, “How long do you think it will take for those pieces to put themselves back together without any help from us?”

The obvious answer: It will never happen.

Step Two:

Take the toy pieces and place them all in a bag or box. Ask the children to shake the bag or box around and then dump them on the floor. After the pieces fall randomly, express frustration, “I wanted them to fall into place and re-create the same designs we made before! Why didn’t it work?”

Try again over and over and keep expressing frustration that it doesn’t work. The kids will consider you silly, which is precisely what you want. Ask you kids, “How many times do you think it will take shaking and dumping before they become the designs again?”

The obvious answer: It will never happen.

Step Three:

Explain that many people believe that the world simply made itself by chance rather than that God created it on purpose. Just as you were silly to expect the toys to fall into place, it is silly to think our entire world made itself without a Creator!
