

Launching is easy.

Really easy.

With your launch of RightNow Media, every family in your ministry will have access to a huge library of biblical content that can grow their faith and strengthen their walk with God. While you can't be there for everyone all the time, you can provide a place where people in your ministry are able to seek answers for their pressing questions and find biblical wisdom in the difficult seasons of life. The mission of the Church matters, and we want to equip you to fulfill that mission with an even greater impact. Like the 17,000 churches and ministries that have already implemented RightNow Media, you too will be able to equip families, resource groups, and develop leaders.

Here's what it will look like:

1. Share

Make your people aware of the gift of RightNow Media. Announce it with a launch video, post about it on social media, and download graphics to add to an email update. Keep RightNow Media at the top of your ministry members' minds over the next few weeks.

2. Invite

Send a list of your ministry members' email addresses to your Account Manager, who will coordinate the invitations. Each member of your ministry will receive an email invitation to create their own RightNow Media account, and then will have instant access to thousands of biblically-based resources.
